To Build a New Office. A force of men has begun on the alterations to the Wheeling Railway Company's offices, at the barns, and the Company's offices, at the barns, and the old structure is being partly torn away preparatory to the new building, which will extend to the Forty-eighth street line, be of brick and two stories in height. The new offices were contemplated early last spring, but the strike delayed operations. The old office has not been used since the strike, and at the inception of that trouble its windows were shattered by stones.

West Alexander Fair

West Alexander Fair.

Rain cut down what would otherwise have been a very large attendance yesterday at the second day of the West Alexander fair, but it was said that several thousand people from the surrounding country passed through the gates. To-day is the closing day of the fair and if the weather is good the fair association expects a larger crowd than "the blg day" last year, when over 5,000 people attended. The stock exhibit is credited with being the best ever seen in this section, and correspondingly good are the fancy work and fruit exhibits. As Potomse fair has been abandoned, West Alexander's attraction is the whole thing now.

GRAND JURY

For Fall Term of the United States Court Empaneled.

SEVERAL IMPORTANT CASES

Will Receive the Attention of Judge Jackson on his Present Visit to Wheeling-The Benwood Street Car Cases Will Come up To-day-Counterfeiting and Postoffice Cases are Also to be Tried.

The fall term of the United States district and circuit courts for West Virginia, with Judge John J. Jackson on the bench, opened at the Federal building late yesterday afternoon on the arrival of the judge from Parkersburg. The empaneling of the grand jury was first taken up. The jury was composed of the following: W. J. Brown, Elm Grove; J. N. Cory, Burton; John Palmer, Proctor; B. J. Dornan, New Cum-berland; J. T. Korbaugh, Proctor; A. E. Leasure, Morgantown; Jason Hall, Proctor; C. S. Bradley, New Cumberland; E. Buckman, Wheeling; Wilson Kennedy, Wheeling; S. C. Brock, Blacksville; Charles Weitzel, Wheel-ing; H. Bennam, Benwood; A. S. List, Wheeling; W. C. Cordell, Wheeling. There are several cases of more than ordinary interest that will figure in the present term of Judge Jackson's co Of most interest in Wheeling will be the case against Police Officers Gately and Fisher, of Benwood, who are charged with interfering with a deputy marshal in the discharge of his duty during the late street car strike. Another strike case is that against Loring, charged with assaulting a deputy marshal.

Anather interesting case is that of the government against James Foley and Ell Brown, arrested at Daybrook, in Marion county, July 21, by Deputy Marshal D. R. Jackson, charged with passing counterfeit nickels on John Shriver, a justice of the peace, in set-tlement of a fee bill.

There is also a postoffice case to be

W. H. Frank and C. J. Beekman, of the Sanatel Tobacco Company, charged with a technical violation of the war revenue stamp tax law, appeared before the court late in the afternoon and gave bond for their appearance at the ensuing Clarksburg term of the court. They were indicted recently at Clarks

ALLEGHENY ELKS

Present the Eik's Head and Antlers Won by Wheeling Lodge, at the Allegheny Street Fair—The Elaborate Ceremonies Scheduled Were Abandoned.

A pleasing vent occurred last night in the palatial home of Wheeling lodge No. 28, B. P. O. E., the occasion being the presentation of Allegheny lodge No. 339 to the local lodge of a handsome the presentation of Allegheny lodge No. 339 to the local lodge of a handsome elk's head and antiers, which was the premium offered by the Allegheny brethen to the visiting lodge turning out the largest percentage of its members, with due regard to distance, at their street fair in July, and as is well known, the Wheeling boys carried off the honors in fine style.

The orginial intention was to have the presentation occur with elaborate ceremonles, but this idea had to be abandoned owing to circumstances hindering both lodges. The Allegheny people had intended coming to Wheeling in force on a special train, but recent celebrations prevented a satisfactory number from cutting away further from business pressures so a committee was appointed, which came herd yesterday. One of the principal reasons, however, was the death recently of ex-Mayor Charles W. Seabright, a charter member of Wheeling lodge.

The elk's head is a beauty, and all hands termed it the real thing. The handsomely polished horns are tipped with gold, and on the rich cherry wood background is the following inscription:

PRESENTED BY

ALLEGHENY LODGE NO. 339.

B. P. O. E.,

-TO-WHEELING LODGE NO. 28

SEPTEMBER 20, 1899. The presentation was scheduled for Wheeling park, but the change of plans necessitated last night's less elaborate ceremony at the lodge rooms, in the Rogers block, on Main street. The compitude from Allegheny lodge was composed of Messrs, George Eberhart, Perry Cassady and Henry Stanings, the first named being the spokesman. The response in behalf of the local lodge was made by City Solicitor Nesbitt, Other happy addresses followed and the visitors were royally entertained.
